The viewing zones are indicated as distance from the subject site.

- Did not even have Forest Glen Road on this map. Why not?
- They have my neighbours across the road as 1km away from proposed open cut pit. I estimated we were 1300 metres away - we maybe less.

- The km contour lines are not done using a protractor (see example)
- They have a long way to map past 4km when we are impacted by dust, blasting dust - contaminated tank water at 11.4 km from Hunter Quarries.

- Viewing zone locations
- Site context (0 - 0.5km)
  - Immediate vicinity (0.5 - 1.0km)
  - Local area (1.0km - 2.5km)
  - Local District area (2.5km - 4.0km)
  - Regional area (>4.0km).
- Total area

Just not in the Karuah National Park. Deep Creek's headwaters is what they want to blast apart if approved - No Quarry!
