| Michelle Leoussis | Australia | 2015-08-30 | It should be left how is |
| Shareesa Knowles | Branxton, Australia | 2015-08-30 | Hunter Valley is a beautiful area and it would be a shame to see it be destroyed plus cousin my nieces live there and suffer from asthma. Health and safety are very important in life quality and at the end of the day that's all we want for our families. |
| Andrew Alger | Sydney, Australia | 2015-08-30 | Mining is not our future |
| Judith Bond | Glen Alpine NSW, Australia | 2015-08-30 | I strongly support to PROTECT the agriculture and farming environment of the Hunter Valley. |
| Greg Dixon | Australia | 2015-08-30 | We have land in the Hunter but quite apart from that, we need to stop digging and start growing. Simple. That's the future. I hope more people sign this. |
| Michelle Wright | Australia | 2015-08-30 | We need to protect our land too many mines short term gain for our agricultural tourist and horse industry to suffer |
| Rada krvavac | Australia | 2015-08-30 | We need to preserve our precious agricultural land. |
| Shirley Watson | Australia | 2015-08-31 | Agricultural land and agricultural industries are sustainable into the future and can provide food and job security for generations to come. Our water resources are critical to our survival and potential risks and damage being caused to them is unacceptable. We must look to a long term sustainable future ,rather than short term gain resulting in irreversible damage to the Hunter Valley by inappropriate mining for fossil fuels. |
| Tracy McCahon | Caloundra, Australia | 2015-08-31 | I'm appalled at the destruction this mining has on people's lives and government does not care. My perception that their is a lot of corruption taking place in the NLP throughout the states and Nationally |
| Peter Chan | Australia | 2015-08-31 | We need to protect our agricultural resources. |
| Jon J Bradley | Australia | 2015-08-31 | This country has been raped for long enough. |
| Katherine Wilcox | Australia | 2015-08-31 | I used to live in the Hunter and work as a horse vet on some of the most beautiful studs in the world, the valley has changed so much in the last 6 years, it saddens me deeply that such a beautiful and historical part of Australia has been destroyed by open cut mines. I moved to victoria earlier this year as I think the the future of the thoroughbred breeding industry will be in victoria rather than the hunter. The finest equine athletes simply won't thrive in a coal dust cloud and rich landowners looking to build new horse studs do not want to be next to a great scar in the landscape and the government has done nothing but bow to pressure from the mining companies, giving us no confidence in the protection of our industry. |
| Dustin Khan | Neutral bay, Australia | 2015-08-31 | I grew up in Hunter Valley (Scone) for most of my childhood, over the time I have seen the area go from green to grey. The land is never the same again after a coal mine has taken its resource. You are killing our environment and desolating an a region just to put money (for the majority) in foreign company's pockets. Once they have mined the area it will be left useless, the big mines move on and leave residents with nothing left, a dust bowl. |
| Phil WILSON | Australia | 2015-08-31 | Open-cut coal mines are taking over the Hunter Valley, forcing out farmers and destroying prime agricultural land |
| Kirstin Schuller | Bleiswijk, Netherlands | 2015-08-31 | You can not let a multinational mining company with headquarters in LONDON ruin your beautiful country and the livelyhood of so many people!!! Preserve Australia for the Australians!!! |

| Sarah Wilcox | South Harting, United Kingdom | 2015-08-31 | I think is utterly wrong that this beautiful , productive region of Australia which has such important industries reliant on good land and clean air should be so short sighted and lose it all.....FOREVER . Wake up people !! Dig for coal somewhere else where the impact is far less to the environment and its people. |
| Jill Sillar | Australia | 2015-08-31 | HV must be more than one bit open pit, stop this NOW |
| Michael Matthews | Australia | 2015-08-31 | I wish to save our vital agricultural land |
| Glenn Turton | Cardiff Heights, Australia | 2015-08-31 | This used to be our Valley. We could be proud and say how pretty it was. Now we are supposed to say how much coal it produces. But even that will be hollow soon. Get real you idiots in power. |
| Teresa Tree | Australia | 2015-08-31 | I cannot believe the government would damage fine agricultural land, the local residents health for what a MAYBE a few dollars - is our government (and lets face it the opposition) are so short sighted that they will risk all FOR EVER! There will be no going back. |
| Jennifer Sievers | Australia | 2015-08-31 | There is only a limited amount of prime land suitable for agriculture and this should not be destroyed. Once the mines are worked out, they may fill in the massive craters left behind but the land will never be the same once the layers of topsoil have been destroyed. It could take decades to recover and in the meantime, do we have to import food from countries with dubious agricultural practices to feed our population? What chemicals will be leaked into our groundwater? Where are the farmers and other workers in the area meant to go and how do they make a living? What about the local communities who will also suffer? Who is benefiting from the sale and use of the coal? What about the further pollution caused by burning it? I thought we were supposed to be reducing use of fossil fuels, so why open more ares to mining. This world has enough sunlight and wind and waves to create clean energy sources. |
| Diana McKenzie | Australia | 2015-08-31 | Our land needs to be protected for our future generations |
| Guy Lawrence | Australia | 2015-08-31 | I believe our agriculture industry should be protected |
| Andrew Gibbons | Australia | 2015-08-31 | Coal is a dying resource we need to stop using it and get into alternative sources including nuclear that are more efficient and less harmful to our planet. The fact we are destroying good farming land for coal mines is illogical. |
| Jennifer Schott | Australia | 2015-08-31 | The greed of the coal mines. |
| Rob Laidlaw | Australia | 2015-08-31 | There is only a limited amount of prime land suitable for agriculture and this should not be destroyed. |
| Rebecca Montgomery | Werribee, Australia | 2015-08-31 | I'm signing because it's a disgrace what you want to do to this land! |
| Sandra Love | Jerrabomberra, Australia | 2015-09-01 | Our farm lands and farmers need to be protected . |
| Anne Walsh | Brisbane, Australia | 2015-09-01 | We need to protect The Hunter , agriculture and The Horse Studs |
| Craig Mcinerneycraig | Australia | 2015-09-01 | It's madness |
| Elizabeth Shadlow | Blacktwon, Australia | 2015-09-01 | It is time to stop the rampant destruction of our farming land. |
| Annette Holt | Australia | 2015-09-01 | Please save our beautiful land! |
| Kristian wynn | Australia | 2015-09-01 | We don't need more coal mines in Australia. We should shift our focus to renewable energy solutions. |
| Gareth Parker | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I grew up travelling to the Hunter Valley and don't want it to be ripped up. |
| marion cameron | Australia | 2015-09-01 | Australia belongs to Australia stop selling it off to other country's and most of all we must protect our environment for our future children and well being of our earth |
| metha storer | Adelaide, Australia | 2015-09-01 | because we need food before coal ,and when it is all dug up there is no turning back |

| lynn Nortje | Australia | 2015-09-01 | i own property in the Hunter! |
| Peter Munns | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I'm signing because I grew up in the Hunter Valley. Agriculture is sustainable and life giving and most pertinently, has a long term future. Coal will destroy health and the environment, and it's long lasting effects will be felt for decades after the mines close. As they will, since the economics make less sense every day. |
| Ian Scarr | Killabakh, Australia | 2015-09-01 | I think coal mining has had its day. We need to be working on alternatives. |
| Karin Hensen | Killabakh, Australia | 2015-09-01 | I am signing for the future of my children. Politicians are corrupt and look after the interests of MN's above the health of people and the environment. They are shortsighted and are guilty of the criminal destruction of prime agricultural land like the Hunter Valley. |
| Jesse Graham | Sydney, Australia | 2015-09-01 | I am free to have my say .. I am not a farmer but my son works in the dairy industry. We need to stand up for these farmers who give up their entire life to produce quality food sources dairy and lots more. We must not allow the greed of these people take that away from our honest hardworking Australian men and women. |
| Liliana Lees | Healesville, Australia | 2015-09-01 | I care about people |
| Alan Winsborrow | Picnic Point, Australia | 2015-09-01 | I care about not losing valuable and extremely fertile agricultural land. Feeding the population must be a higher priority than mining! |
| Steve Whelan | Australia | 2015-09-01 | We need to look after what we have. |
| Angela Haynes | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I don't want theine to damage the Hunter Thoroughbred Breeding Industry |
| Kellie Coyne | Australia | 2015-09-01 | Open-cut coal mines are taking over the Hunter Valley, forcing out farmers and destroying prime agricultural land. The increasing rate of asthma and breathing-related illnesses is directly related to the air quality. Poor decisions, based on mining revenue is destroying the future for our children. When the coal is gone, all we will be left with is a dirty big hole in the ground that is good for nothing. |
| Dave Gunne | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I came from the Hunter and now you've stuffed it! |
| Robin nicholls | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I'm signing because coal results in a short term financial gain, primary industry has supported this country for centuries and will continue to do so for many more, but only if the land hasn't been spoilt. I'm signing in support of the farmers who have a small voice and everything to lose. |
| margaret moraitis | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I think the mining people are neither caring nor listening to the land owners re how this will impact on their livelihoods'! |
| linda Ryan | Australia | 2015-09-01 | australia needs a better environment, more than the coal. as an asthma sufferer and my husband also has a lung condition. i cannot approve of anything that will make the situation worse for those with lung conditions. |
| Fay Hicks | Beenleigh, Australia | 2015-09-01 | You can't eat coal and to destroy an agricultural area for something that will be useless in years to come it wrong. Food should have a priority as should water this mine will destroy both. |
| Sharon Chandler | Australia | 2015-09-01 | We need to keep our farming land to feed our future generations! |
| wendy jagger | binna burra, Australia | 2015-09-01 | We need food there are alternatives to creating power but we need food, |
| Jamie Andrei | Australia | 2015-09-01 | We need to protect our farm & agricultural land (food security) & look for prosperous alternatives to digging dirt & handing university Graduates shovels. |
| Ronald Oddy | Australia | 2015-09-01 | We don't need any more coal mines and certainly not in productive agricultural regions!!! |

| Mike Young | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I have visited many parts of the Hunter Valley including Bulga, Singleton, Muswellbrook and Scone and I see the mess being created by mining in this prime agricultural region. The world needs food more than coal now. |
| Deidre Miranda | Australia | 2015-09-01 | It has to be stopped |
| david and jane mcbride | batemans bay, Australia | 2015-09-01 | I was a farmer in the hunter and that beautiful alluvial soil should be kept for survival |
| Susan Pritchard | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I am sick and tired of all the dust and crap at Denman and destroying beautiful prime land. |
| June Bullivant OAM | Sydney, Australia | 2015-09-01 | We do not want this industry in the Hunter Valley |
| Marc Bennie | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I care about Aussie farmers |
| Samantha kellner | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I'm totally against open cut coal mines destroying our land and our agricultural lands . Once it is cut it is destroyed forever !! |
| maria gevers | Australia | 2015-09-01 | I want my children to have Australia and not get pushed off there own land |
| Bryan Langler | Australia | 2015-09-01 | We need to protect our food chain and more importantly Coal is very old technology for energy - almost as |
| James Manning | Australia | 2015-09-01 | Enough is enough! I was born and bred in the Hunter Valley. My Dad was a coal miner, my brothers are coal miners and I work in the rural industry. If we keep building new mines there will be no water, no land and no food for the future! Enough is enough!!! |
| pauline lucas | Port Macquarie, Australia | 2015-09-01 | We r losing so much of our environment, and our natural tree life to sustain our living animals who rely on this. |
| Robyn Beaudry | Newcastle, Australia | 2015-09-01 | What will we do if we can't grow food anymore? |
| David simmons | Australia | 2015-09-01 | please stop multi nationals stripping Australian farmland for the benefit or their shareholders and their profits. Hands off Australia. |
| Karen Muirhead | Australia | 2015-09-01 | We need prime land for agriculture, mining is a dying industry and the reclamation process after the mine is finished does not work-all topsoil is gone. |
| Alyce Jackson | Australia | 2015-09-01 | Wed have fight this fight so many times. Open cut coal destroys other industries, creates health hazards and doesn't create jobs |
| jeanette Young | Woombye, Australia | 2015-09-01 | This part of NSW Is one through which we travel often, and treasure the remaining farm and rural production. |
| Renee Ker | Australia | 2015-09-01 | our farm land is a very precious resource. Farmland and water needs to be protected |
| Ian Carr-Boyd | Katoomba, Australia | 2015-09-02 | It's like China FTA...about money, not society or environment. |
| Marea Foster | Australia | 2015-09-02 | It is wrong to continue this type of mining when energy alternatives are now possible, and need to be better developed. |
| Regina Johansen | Australia | 2015-09-02 | I'm a horse lover and working in the Racing industry as a track rider for John Thompson at Randwick and for us Hunter valley is so important with all the beautiful stud's and many of our hard working race horses deserve their holidays at Hunter valley. I'm also a person who loves the country and think it's so sad how much damage we cause. I'm a adventure person and I've been living in Australia for 5 years now and I love it. Blue mountains and Hunter Valley is two of the most beautiful places in Australia and NSW and they should really look after it and be proud of it. I'm also a fitness and health freak and eating organic food that are coming from a clean place without chemicals is very important for me. |
| ALAN DEITCH | Australia | 2015-09-02 | Environmental & agricultural concerns. |

| Graeme Kath | Australia | 2015-09-02 | Don't destroy good farming land - we can sell food forever, not the same with coal! |
| Stephanie O'Halloran | Australia | 2015-09-02 | I care |
| Beatriz Arellano Amaro | Newcastle, Australia | 2015-09-02 | Please sign! Too precious to mine. |
| Michael Marshall | Australia | 2015-09-02 | I believe in our farming future .Time for Australia to make stand for our lands. |
| Andrew Cross | Australia | 2015-09-02 | I agree with Pat protect our precious productive lands |
| trudy Alm | Australia | 2015-09-02 | it takes away more than it gives- its time to stop |
| Carolyn Lean | Australia | 2015-09-02 | renewable energy should be utilized to save our valuable land for farming in the future. Lets for once look to the future and stop the raping of our beautiful country for short term gain. |
| Rebecca Lehman | Seattle, WA | 2015-09-02 | Dear Rob, I really liked your presentation about progress being uncoupled from development at the USSC future cities dinner. This is a prime example of uncoupling progress ... please halt open cut coal mines. |
| Gerard Santamaria | Australia | 2015-09-02 | i am sick of large companies getting what they want at the expense of our beautiful that at the moment is being used in a sustainable way. Mining will devastate it forever |
| Cam Grant | Brighton, Australia | 2015-09-02 | It's wrong |
| Helene Richards | Williamstown, Australia | 2015-09-02 | Coal mines destroy pristine farmland so that it is useless for farming after the mines close, and leave behind polluted water underground. Protecting our food producing land should be a top priority. |
| Elly Hes | Spotswood, Australia | 2015-09-02 | I'm signing because I care about our environment and the world our grandchildren will live in. I lived in the Hunter for 19 years. a beautiful fertile area with precious water. NO MORE NEW COAL MINES ! |
| robin sultanie | Australia | 2015-09-02 | We need to save our farming land |
| Kerrie Otto de Grancy | Sydney, Australia | 2015-09-02 | The open cut coal mining in the Hunter is an act of madness. Save our land, our agriculture, our communities. STOP the madness. |
| Kate Ham | Australia | 2015-09-02 | I'm signing because history shows how much damage mining does to the environment and water even without "meaning" to. Only this week I saw that a mine in Werris Creek hit an aquifer and destroyed it only pump its water out into the air to evaporate while farmers bores ran dry! Mines cause too much unforeseeable damage. You cannot eat or drink coal!!!!!! About time we started focusing on the industry that actually keep people alive! |
| Warick clydsdale | Australia | 2015-09-02 | its about time we became Australian & look after our mates like real Australians do. |
| Mark Roberts | Australia | 2015-09-03 | The Hunter has a rich agricultural heritage which will disappear with the short term gains of the mining royalties. Newcastle has the leading asthma research centre in Australia no doubt as a result of the coal mining. For the community it boils down to jobs but we know that the jobs will not last and what then? |
| Barry Tait | Australia | 2015-09-03 | For a better life for my grandchildren and generations to come |
| lily kuiper | hervey bay, Australia | 2015-09-03 | we need to preserve our farmland at all cost. Coal is not the energy source of the future and we can't eat it |
| Carol Myhill | Australia | 2015-09-03 | I believe the government should not allow the permanent destruction of this precious agricultural land and to protect it for future generations of Australians. |
| Heather Elliott | Australia | 2015-09-04 | A day will come when we won't need coal for energy. But the day will never come when we don't need food. Leave the farming and agricultural land alone so we can have food security. |

| Steven Gosch | Coffs Harbour, Australia | 2015-09-07 | Be warned. The time will come when the Lord God All-Powerful will destroy those who destroy the earth. (From Revelation Chapter 11, Verse 18, Good News Bible.) Such people, therefore, must change their ways while there is still time. |
| Brenden Lower | Australia | 2015-09-07 | im signing because what they have planned is a terrible idea and long term plan! |
| Ina Toverud | Australia | 2015-09-08 | To make a different |
| Stephen Dalton | Australia | 2015-09-08 | i don't want coal mines ruining the beautiful horse country |
| Roberta Walsh | NSW, Australia | 2015-09-08 | No mines in this luscious area!!!!!! |
| john lowe | Australia | 2015-09-08 | I am sick of mining companies wanting to mine our fertile rural land to line the pockets of their overseas bosses.australia is an agricultural country,we want it to stay that way,mining companies have caused enough irreparable damage,stop them now kick the out. |
| louise derbyshire | Australia | 2015-09-08 | I can't believe how ill informed the people in power are and how cruel they can be to their fellow Australian farmers |
| Melanie King | Australia | 2015-09-08 | I strongly agree that the mining SHOULD NOT go ahead. The damage will be devastating for decades. Please Government Members, please listen to Australian concerns, especially all locals affected, rather than enabling foreign companies.... |
| Susan Allard | Australia | 2015-09-08 | Allowing any mining on prime agricultural land is madness. These lands are our economic future and will provide income forever is carefully managed. |
| Ken King | Australia | 2015-09-08 | It is an absolute disgrace for existing And future generations and does not make commercial sense to throw away prime agriculture land |
| Beatrice Knuckey | Australia | 2015-09-08 | Because as a patriotic & responsible Australian it's my duty to stand up for our farmers. It beggars belief how short-sighted our politicians have been. Our farmland needs to be preserved for future generations. Vandalism on steroids has to be stopped. |
| Anne Formosa | Colyton NSW, Australia | 2015-09-08 | The Hunter Valley is being destroyed by Open-cut coal mines. |
| Christina Koinis | Australia | 2015-09-08 | The hunter is far more important that a coal mine for another billion dollar company!!!! |
| Kylie Woodham | Australia | 2015-09-09 | I'm saddened at the prospect of the Hunter Valley being lost to mining |
| Jane Ferguson | Australia | 2015-09-09 | We cannot destroy our prime agricultural lands |
| Adrienne Hunt | Australia | 2015-09-09 | I have close friends living just out of Denman who breed Lincoln Red Beef cattle. I have been visiting the Hunter for over 40 years and have sadly watched the open cut mines slowly eat away the beautiful countryside. My friend's wire fences are actually disintegrating due to pollution to the point where they can no longer replace fences, relying instead on electric fences. These fences keep having power shortages and my friends are continually having to rescue cattle off the roads. We need this food producing area so close to Sydney. It will be VERY short sighted of the government to allow more mines to open and it makes me very sad to think my daughter and generations after won't be able to enjoy the serene surroundings of this wonderful escape from the city. I feel like I'm 'coming home' whenever I drive to the Hunter Valley. Please don't keep destroying this wonderful, historical region. There must be other ways to generate power other than coal. We've just got to invest in these alternatives and move away from coal. Don't allow AngloAmerican, or any other mining company, to wreck more of our inheritance. There are far more important things in life than profits. NO MORE MINES IN THE HUNTER! |

| Chrlisty Summerhill | Australia | 2015-09-09 | I want Hunter Valley to stay pristine |
| Sharon Hulme | Kurnell NSW, Australia | 2015-09-09 | We need to save our country from the greedy who want to simply rape and pillage our Australian farmlands |
| phillip davis | Granville, Australia | 2015-09-09 | Multi national mining companies worth billions of dollars have no place in Australia. They are not needed or welcome. |
| Nerissa Copp | Australia | 2015-09-09 | Support the racing industry |
| Olivia Florance | Sydney, Australia | 2015-09-11 | We need to protect our beautiful environment otherwise we won't have a future! |
| Nicholas Dower | Singapore, Australia | 2015-09-11 | No mines |
| claire leyten | Australia | 2015-09-11 | the hunter valley is such a beautiful area of the world. don't spoil it. we do not need any more coal mines, alternative energy research such be preferred in the hunter. |
| Lucy Andrews | Newcastle, Australia | 2015-09-11 | We have exisiting technologies for renewable energy supplies we don't need coal |
| Yassmin Sawaqed | Australia | 2015-09-11 | What will our generation face in time to come. Those lives matter. We deserve to prosper. |
| Rosealee Storey | Australia | 2015-09-11 | I feel strongly about this cause |
| Alice Andrews | Australia | 2015-09-11 | we already have substitutes to coal why do we continue to destroy our future |
| kerry duckworth | Australia | 2015-09-11 | i do not want greed and more mines ruin our beautiful hunter valley.why is money so important? please consider the future |
| Steve Prott | Australia | 2015-09-11 | It angers me that those responsible for making the decisions supposedly for the benefit of the people, are so narrow minded and short sighted all because of the dollars to be made!! Listen to the people!! We don't lives ruined and our land destroyed for ever! Wake up!! |
| Margherita Prato | Australia | 2015-09-11 | Prime agricultural land destroyed. Such a beautiful place that future Australians will lose |
| jeffrey marshall | Australia | 2015-09-11 | How stupid is some people in Australia. There are 3 UN recognised perfect horse breeding areas on this planet, Newmarket UK, Kentucky USA both protected by law and the Hunter Valley Aus not protected by law .So a dirty coal mine with a limited life is threatening a 2 billion industry that has an indefinite life and all the jobs associated with it, far more than 500 jobs at the mine. This mine has been knocked back 3 times yet the mining company is getting a 4th chance who else in society get that many chances. I'm nearly 60 have loved racing all my life but without our breeding grounds racing will be severely effected in years to come, might as well sell off royal Randwick if this horrid mine somehow goes ahead. Go somewhere else and shame on nsw govt for possibly allowing the destruction of an entire industry just for 1 short term coal mine. I also fear for the wonderful winerys as well. |
| Robyn Paterson | Australia | 2015-09-11 | coal is a finite resource; once the mines are gone the land is useless |
| Alberto Zavasky | Australia | 2015-09-11 | Come on Mike & Rob, Coal & coal mines are a thing of the past. If you truly are putting this states' (NSW) best foot forward for now and the future, our KIDS future, then you would not be scarring this pristine countryside & fertile land on dying & out-dated industry & resource(s) stealing. NSW is smarter than that... |

| Julie Brand | Australia | 2015-09-11 | For too long Australia has given over vital farming land to development and worst of all to the coal and gas industry. We should be moving away from coal and towards renewable and non toxic energy. Wake up Tony Abbott, protect our country and earth's future. |
| Ryan Newman | Australia | 2015-09-11 | Farming should come before profit |
| Camilla Beer | Australia | 2015-09-11 | I want my future children to be able to enjoys beauty the valley has to offer. I'm also sick of big mining companies getting their way and farming and equine businesses being forced to leave or suffer. |
| Frank Qureshi | Australia | 2015-09-11 | Because e need to protect our water and food |
| Wendy Penman | Butterwick, Australia | 2015-09-11 | I love the Hunter Valley and the potential it has to feed the world into the future. |
| Michele Bell | Australia | 2015-09-11 | Because we agricultural land, we need to be able to grow our own food |
| Robyn Carlin | Melbourne, Australia | 2015-09-11 | I dont want to see such terrible destruction of our beautiful hunter valley |
| Nathan kirkland | Australia | 2015-09-12 | im signing because I work in the thoroughbred industry and it is ruining the industry and waterways and hurting the environment in many different ways |
| David Knox | Australia | 2015-09-12 | Agriculture feeds the people, not coal. |
| Anna Watson | Australia | 2015-09-12 | Land is more valuable to our horses and farmers!! |
| Stirling Smith | Australia | 2015-09-12 | Not everything is about mining. Agriculture is of ongoing and increasing import to Australia's health, wealth and to it's economy. Stop destroying this valuable farm land. |
| Lucy Redlich | Australia | 2015-09-12 | We need to Acton climate change and this is the best place to start. Coal is not a viable commodity anymore because of what it does to the environment. Please look after the people on the land, the ones whose vote will mean a lot. |
| Chris Wood | Newcastle, Australia | 2015-09-12 | The snake oil premier cares little for the people of NSW he's in the pockets of foreign multinationals, who are rape, pillage and plundering the resources of our state. The pollies running the govt. are fossil fools for fossil fuels! |
| Kellie Tym | Australia | 2015-09-12 | No fresh air....every breath is sulphur and diesel. ...our help has severely been compromised! !!!! |
