The Narrabri Gas Project does not make economic sense. The expense of producing this energy no longer adds up with renewal energy production costs decreasing. This does not taken into account the economic devastation that will occur

Please continue on back side.

When this project is responsible for the groundwater supply for our region. This company know that they cannot meet the NSW Chief Scientist's safety conditions. This Government knows that this project will not meet its own safety requirements to protect the community.

Previous CSG projects in Queensland clearly demonstrate the destruction this industry has on agriculture and the local economy and communities. The job opportunities stated pale into insignificance to the amount of employment that will be lost when our groundwater is contaminated.

Santos know the longer term prospects for this project are not viable, which is why they want approval and then sell.
Shame on you NSW Government.
