Dear Sir/Madam,
Firstly let me say how dissapointed I am to be writing this submission in the first place. To say that we feel let down as farmers and liberal/National Party voters is a massive understatement. Farmers in Australia provide food & fibre for not only Australia but the world and our voice means nothing. We have been severely let down by the very people we voted for.

The Great Artesian Basin is our life blood and to see that put at risk is insanity. Yes in the short term this may not be putting our livelihood at risk but it is too greater risk for future generations. The whole world is crying out for a greener more sustainable environment. Surely this move smacks that in the face. Sustainable clean energy is the future. ~~we~~ We should be pursuing this before we go destroying our water supply.

I strongly urge you to reconsider the Santos Narrabri Gas Project for everyone's sake not just the farmers.
