

To the Independent Planning Commission

I wish to lodge an objection to the proposed Santos Narrabri Gas Project, as there are many adverse impacts (to many to discuss in my objection) which can be avoided as there are better alternatives if we really need an alternative supply of gas. For example a gas reservation policy that the government already has in the form of the Australian Domestic Gas Security Mechanism , and if the Gas Industry will not give their permission for this to be triggered, then import gas through the approved Port Kembla terminal.

I am a retired farmer from just north of Narrabri and have watched the effects of climate change impact on farmers many of whom have not seen a harvest since 2017. Another global warming project is not wanted and not needed.

We became acutely aware of how precious water is whether it be from rivers or dams during the drought and for many if they did not have access to underground water such as from the Great Artesian Basin the consequences would have been dire.

To approve this CSG project, which is a threat to our underground water supply, especially when there are better options is worse than dumb.

Yours Sincerely
