ADDITIONAL NOTES

THERE ARE NO FINANCIAL BENEFITS FOR PROCEEDING WITH THE NARRABRI GAS PROJECT.

Any further investment is a very risky given that; fossil fuel investments are doing well globally. Both Origin and Santos have announced billion dollar write-offs due to the collapse in global gas prices. Why consider gas, which will endanger our aquifers, soil and put at great risk productive agriculture, and primary production; which is the key to the Australian economy and is the number one earner, giving Australians a standard of living second to none, and being the envy of the rest of the world. Gas is an emissions nightmare, costs too much for potentially, so little gain if any at all.
