

HARBOURSIDE SHOPPING CENTRE REDEVELOPMENT – DARLING HARBOUR

10 May 2021

The state significant development for the proposed redevelopment of the Harbourside Shopping Centre (SSD 7874) at Darling Harbour, in inner-Sydney, is currently before the Independent Planning Commission for determination.

As part of their decision-making process, Commissioners Dianne Leeson (Panel chair) and Wendy Lewin have sought additional information from the Applicant (Mirvac) and Department of Planning, Industry & Environment.

Some of this material has already been received and has been made available on the Commission's website: <https://www.ipcn.nsw.gov.au/projects/2021/04/harbourside-shopping-centre--darling-harbour>

The Commission intends to reopen public submissions on the additional material once it has received all of the information requested.

The Commission will provide a further statement regarding how interested individuals and groups can have their say on the new information and the deadline for submissions in due course.
