Dear IPC

I am dismayed at Glencore's intention to move Ravensworth Estate to somewhere else and create a new coal mine on its current site.

This is an act of vandalism against the important historic integrity of the documentary evidence of conflict sites. It is as significant as the convict sites of Tasmania.

Heritage NSW said as much recently, and they are right, many opportunities for truth telling will be lost for ever.

The fact that Ravensworth Homestead is so well preserved makes it especially rare and valuable as a site where the past history of Aboriginal and European settler history were shared.

I urge you to refuse Glencore's demands decisively.

Yours sincerely

Stephanie
