

SUBMISSION FROM THE APPLICANT FOR MCPHILLAMYS GOLD PROJECT

1 March 2023

The Independent Planning Commission (Commission) received a large number of expert reports as submissions during the submissions period. The Applicant, Regis Resources, has written to the Commission suggesting there is “significant new information” contained in these expert reports and has requested an opportunity to respond.

In the interests of fairness and ensuring the Commission has access to all relevant information, the Commission has granted the Applicant’s request to make a late submission to the Panel with the caveat that the response only addresses the new information and is limited to a maximum length of 50 pages.

A copy of the Applicant’s request and response has been published on the Commission’s website, under Documents > Correspondence.

The Commission does not propose to permit any further late submissions.
