Submission:

The Bowdens silver project is not only an important part of silver mines future, but a significant asset to the state. It is the largest undeveloped silver project in Australia, and also one of the largest globally. Silver is very important to have as it is used in military applications, it is also used in all kinds of electrical switches, relays & batteries. It is also used in water purification systems & paints, and as a primary component in the photographic industry. Silver doesn't corrode and has excellent thermal conductive properties. The IPC of NSW should also consider that by approving the Bowdens silver project, there are also going to be many more jobs available.
