Dear Sir/ Madam,

As land holders we are highly involved in the proposed Bowmans Creek wind farm project as four turbines are proposed for our property. We are a 5th generation grazing family and not only too well the ongoing effects of climate change. The impacts on this project for us as a family are acute, but we are interested and keen to see a transition away from fossil fuels and its impact on our business and the wider rural sector. We are concerned that we have only found out about the various meetings about the proposed project through a local newspaper and have consequently missed these meetings. There has been no letter box drop or notification via email or calls to inform us or give us time to organise to attend these meetings.

As much as we support the project we feel we have been ignored and or disregarded and have read about the negative statements from various people that do not represent us or our opinion which hasn't been sought from your department.

We have also been subject to threatening unsigned letters re our legal position from the group opposing the wind turbine project.

We would appreciate to be consulted in advance about future meetings so that we can voice our opinions and not have others who are opposed to the project speaking on our behalf including our neighbours whom also seem to be in the dark in this Hebden community.

Kind regards

Ross Clydsdale
