Key points of concern are:

- lack of buffer zone with residential areas, a medical research facility, childcare centres and Sydney's drinking water catchment*
- environmental pollution from microplastics and forever chemicals*
- fire risk*
- lack of appropriate transport infrastructure*
- conflicts with Wingecarribee Shire Council's draft strategic plan for the Southern Highlands Innovation Park to be an employment zone*
- failure to have secured land owner's consent for access to site*
- inconsistencies and inaccuracies in the DPHI's recommendations.*

The proposed factory will be one of the biggest in the Southern Hemisphere. This is not the right site.
