This is a totally unsuitable location for this business to operate. We now know microplastics are accumulating in the environment and in human tissues. This site is within a short distance of schools, daycare centres, waterways and residential areas. Once these micro plastics (forever chemicals) make it into our community they are there forever. Now is not the time to experiment with a recycling plant that is operated by a foreign national who has very little experience in this field. It would be totally culpable of the IPC to recommend approval on this project without a thorough independent assessment from specialists in the Micro plastics field. I implore the members to reject this proposal outright or at the very least demand a thorough independent report undertaken by experts in this field.
