This cannot go ahead. Our health, and that of our children, is at stake. While we may not yet fully understand the long-term effects of plastics on our health, studies have already linked exposure to infertility, cancer, and other serious conditions. The sheer amount of microplastics that could end up in our air and waterways is a risk too great to ignore. Who is willing to take that chance?

It's my understanding that an alternative site has been proposed, one that won't pose the same threat to our local community as Moss Vale. We urge you, please don't let this project move forward here.
