Please consider relocating the site of this plant to an area which will not have such a detrimental impact. While the site is based in Moss Vale, it will impact a larger portion of the Southern Highlands and its unique ecosystem. It will impact the air quality and water quality for residents and visitors. The Southern Highlands relies on tourism for its economy and this plant will have a direct impact. The owner and operator is not a proven entity. Place the plant in a location that can do minimal damage to people and environment. Why wait for the plant to be working to discover the damage it has caused. Let's not make the same mistake as has been made in other countries where hazard causing plants impact people and the environment.
