Topic 1. Sustainability of current and future forestry operations in NSW

Dear Forestry Industry Action Panel,

My name is David Deng, I live in [REDACTED] since 2016.

But, in more than 60 years ago as a community primary school pupil in that time very backward China, which is as far as 8000 km away, I already knew platypus, along with koala and kangaroo etc. lives in Australia for long.

As a matter of fact, those precious and unique wild animals, birds, plants and aquatic lives, makes Australia unique amongst the world nations; no one other than Australia should make the commitment and take effective actions to protect.

Also, as a matter of fact, the native forests in Australia are obviously one of the key factors, not only but also for these unique species to live and reproduce sustainably.

That's why I make this submission and calling on to stop destruction of native forests.

Sincerely your

David Deng
