I object vehemently to the establishment of the plasrefine facility in Moss Vale, whereby microplastics and harmful chemicals will most likely be released into the atmosphere a mere few kilometres from where my children play sport and go to school. It beggars belief that the NSW state government would approve such a facility to be built in an area surrounded by residential houses and close to the town's main waterway. The proposed location of this factory is completely inappropriate. It is clear that the social, environmental and health impacts this project will have on our community have not been adequately considered.
