I visit Moss Vale regularly as I have family there and am amazed that such a proposal can have been made to build a plastics refinery so close to a residential area due to the impact that we're now finding out micro plastics have on the environment, animals and people. The refinery should be at least 10km away from private property and any residential areas as it is in Parkes. How can this even be considered in the Southern Highlands where people have been told to limit their outdoor activities and on certain days not to leave their residence. Please say 'no' to this refinery and, if it has to be built, put it out in the middle of nowhere.
