Subject: Bringing Plains-wanderers back from the brink - Local Land Services

Hi Commissioners, Sorry for the late contribution. I should have highlighted the Plains Wanderer is not just a unique species but also unique genius of bird.

There appears to be some NSW government work underway for conservation of the Plains Wanderer. I defer to the work highlighting, feral cat, fox and also rabbits contribute to the declining population. As such rabbit populations should also be managed over the Pottinger Wind Farm foot print.
